Memorial to the innocents

Touching tributes to victims of the Barn Mead arson attack unveiled at Abbotsweld School

MEMORIALS to the mother and her five children who lost their lives in an arson attack on their home last October have been unveiled at the Harlow school where three of the young victims were pupils.

Dr Sabah Usmani (44), and children Hira (12), Sohaib (11), Muneeb (9), Rayyan (6) and Maheen (3) all died after fire ripped through their end-of-terrace home in Barn Mead on October 15 last year.

But their names will live on thanks to the fundraising efforts of staff, parents and pupils at the school. Led by parents Neil and Donna Betteridge, they together managed to raise more than £31,000 to pay for memorial benches, new play equipment and a £12,000 'jungle gym' dedicated to the children and their mother to be installed in the playground of Abbotsweld School.

In an emotional unveiling ceremony, the children's father and sole blaze survivor Dr Abdul Shakoor gave a moving address to staff and pupils before cutting ribbons on the tributes in the playground of the Partridge Road primary.

"I am greatly pleased to be among you once again to take part in the opening ceremony of the Shakoor family memorial, which has been the result of great fundraising and organisational efforts on the part of the Friends of Abbotsweld, especially Neil and Donna Betteridge," he said.

"School staff, parents and other community workers have devoted countless hours of hard work to reach this target of placing a memorial in the school playground in memory of my beloved wife and children.

"I cannot explain in words how I am feeling to be amongst you and what it really means to me to acknowledge the great love, respect and sympathy which every member of the team exhibited by undertaking this extraordinary task to accomplish this goal for the sake of me and my family and to keep them in lasting memory forever.

"On today's memorable occasion I am feeling proud to be part of this wonderful community who not only supported me by their deeds and words at the time when the tragedy happened to me but are still continuing their moral support a long time after it."

He added: "I would like to also express my feelings that the laying down of memorials in today's dignified gathering has clearly demonstrated the unity, respect and love among people irrespective of their faith, colour, culture and customs.

"This is sending a very positive message of peace across the communities and it will certainly help to make this world a better place to live for us and for the generations to come - a

Troublemakers hit with ASBOs

THREE men from Harlow have been issued with five-year anti-social behaviour orders following a hearing at Chelmsford Magistrates Court.

Lee Oliver (24), of Abbotsweld, and Todd Bow (23), of no fixed address, were issued with the orders in their absence when they failed to attend court. Steven Neal (24) - also known as Scott Neal - of The Hides, was also issued with an ASBO.

The three men were accused of committing offences of burglary, theft and causing harassment and distress in Essex as well as Hertfordshire, London, Surrey, Yorkshire and Warwickshire.

Chief Inspector Justin Smith, district commander for Harlow, said: "We hope these ASBOs send a strong message to these men that their behaviour will not be tolerated and that they will be arrested if they do not comply."

"The community in Harlow and elsewhere can be reassured that police, working with other agencies, will take action where necessary to protect the public, and I would like to thank all those people involved, including witnesses who provided statements, for their good work that resulted in these orders being put in place."

Youths threaten walker with knife

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a man out walking his dog was threatened with a knife.

The victim, a man in his sixties, was in Tendring Road, Harlow, with his dog between 10.15-10.30am on Thursday (June 27) when he was approached by two youths riding bicycles.

One of the cyclists told the victim to get his dog out of the way before pulling out a knife and threatening him.

The suspect is described as a white, aged 15-19 and 5ft 7ins tall. He had dark brown, semi-curly hair, brown eyes and was clean shaven.

He was wearing a grey hooded top with red piping around the hood, grey tracksuit bottoms and scruffy trainers and was riding a multi-coloured pedal cycle.

Anyone with information is urged to contact Harlow CID on 101.

Couple wed after cancer diagnosis

A POLICE officer proposed, organised a wedding and got married within 24 hours of being told the love of his life had been diagnosed with an inoperable cancer.

Mike Rowland (51) and his new wife Lynda (49), who have been together since 2006, tied the knot at Princess Alexandra Hospital on Friday after being given the news that the disease had spread to Mrs Rowland's lungs.

Mrs Rowland, who also serves as a police officer in the Met, was first diagnosed with cancer in 2011 after losing weight and finding a lump on her breast.

She was diagnosed with breast cancer and underwent an operation as well as chemotherapy to fight the disease.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

But in March of this year, she developed a cough, which was misdiagnosed as a virus and asthma until she was taken to A&E after struggling to breathe.

A subsequent X-ray then discovered shadows on Mrs Rowland's lungs where the cancer had spread.

Mr Rowland said: "Getting the news was a kick in the teeth, - they told us straight away that they had found shadows on the lungs and told us that if she was in the same situation again in two weeks or a month's time then the lungs would fail."

"So I asked her on Thursday if she wanted to marry me - and she said yes."

Mr Rowland started on preparations for the big day immediately.

He said: "I phoned the registrar straight away, sorted out the paperwork, and on the night before I called her sisters and our close family and friends to say 'there may be a wedding on Friday or Saturday'."

"It was a complete surprise for Lynda, and it was all done in 24 hours."

PAH provided a private room, which was granted an emergency wedding license, for the newlyweds to exchange vows with their family present.

"It was a happy but very emotional day and we're very grateful to the hospital staff for helping with the decorations and giving us a room," Mr Rowland added.

Cruel treatment of the poor not a cause for celebration

SIR, Can it be right and just that the poorest sections of our community are being asked to pay 24 per cent towards their council tax from a subsistence benefit payment in many cases amounting to £71.70 a week?

I notice Cllr Tony Durcan crowing about the fact that only 170 people have been taken to court (Star, June 27). If he sees this as vindication of this party's cruel treatment of the poor as a cause for celebration then woe betide us in other matters of fairness and equality.

Sadly, his party did not decide to avail themselves of help offered by the Government and before he replies that this was not to Harlow's benefit I would say it was a political decision his party took rather than a pragmatic one. I would only be too glad to help him and his party find savings. And he had better note that we are only three months into the council tax year so it is likely that others will fall behind at some stage.

Perhaps Cllr Durcan also approves of foodbanks which exist to help alleviate food poverty and are growing. This in itself is shameful but never mind, he can always blame it on someone else.

The Labour Party in Harlow has badly let down its core support down. It has removed dignity from the poor and under Cllrs Wilkinson and Durcan has been every bit as nasty as the so-called nasty Tory party.

I would respectfully ask that they think again and not to pursue the poor through the courts, thus making the problem worse. Let's see a little compassion and understanding.

It's not greed, I have to rent out my flat to pay mortgage

SIR, Having just read the letter regarding the Rent Team and not having sympathy for people who buy to let made my blood boil (Letters, June 27).

What tunnel vision the author of that letter has, I only wish life was that black and white, but it's not.

I, like many others, could not get council accommodation. Needing my independence in my 30s, I had to buy what I could afford which was an overpriced studio flat which I invested my life savings into.

Now in a relationship, the flat is not big enough for two. As the market has moved I cannot sell my flat as I will lose all the money invested. I would rather not have brought it but with the lack of council housing I had no choice, so now I have to rent it out.

That is not greed, it's a situation I had been forced into. The rent only just covers the mortgage.

I know of someone who has lost their job and has had to move back in with their parents. They rent their flat out to cover the mortgage but because of the greed of the Rent Team they never got their rent, so their mortgage was unpaid and they may now lose their home.

There are lots of victims involved, I just hope they do all get monies owing.

Jenny Harding
Brockles Mead, Harlow

Councillors do take pothole complaints very seriously

SIR, Having only recently been elected to Essex County Council, let me reassure Les Coben (Letters, June 27) that I am certainly taking action in regard to potholes, which is a major problem in Harlow.

As some residents already know I have been able to get some of the damage rectified.

I would also like to assure Mr Coben that both parties are taking this very seriously, I have been in contact with Labour and Conservative councillors to try to co-ordinate repairs in the area I now represent.

Those readers who know me would say I am rarely fair to the Tories but on this occasion we are all working together on what is, after all, a non-political issue high in importance to many Harlow residents and drivers.

The county council also has an action hotline for residents but I am only too willing to take up issues in the area I represent - Old Harlow (including Newhall) Mark Hall and Netteswell - and I know colleagues on Essex County Council are only too willing to take up cases, too.

However, I would make a political point. If we are not prepared to pay for the services we expect and want our council tax to stay low or be frozen, then there really is no extra money to provide the services we wish for.

Cllr Mike Danvers (Labour)
Tunnammead, Harlow

We're proud to be part of a multicultural community

SIR, In response to the claim that there were 30 people on the Harlow Strong march last Sunday, readers should be aware that at least a third of those were children.

To the organisers who are still spouting off about about the "peaceful" show of respect, are you proud that children at the front were shouting EDL and a couple of thugs raised their tattooed arms as they passed our multicultural stall?

Crawl back under your racist, ignorant stones and leave the rest of Harlow to fight against the real issues - benefit cuts, the bedroom tax, lack of housing and the poverty created by the Government.

The people of Harlow came out to show you that we are proud to be a multicultural, multi-faith community and your invitation to the EDL, BNP and other right wing groups would not be tolerated.

Faulty restaurant fan is a constant noise nuisance

SIR, I am writing with regard to my elderly grandparents and the constant noise of the broken extractor fan at a Chinese restaurant in The Stow.

This fan is constantly on from 11am-3pm and then 5pm-12.30am seven days a week. It has been broken for months and it leaves my grandparents unable to sit in their garden or conservatory due to the constant humming.

I am aware it has also discouraged the sale of a local maisonette.

My grandparents have followed the correct procedure by contacting the restaurant, speaking to environmental health and calling the out-of-hours service at the council but feel frustrated they are being constantly ignored.

Perhaps Robert Halfon can give his attention to this matter and ensure that two hardworking, dedicated Harlow residents can live their life in peace

Passengers stranded by buses failing to arrive

SIR, On at least four occasions last week the bus for the area serving Momples Road failed to arrive.

On Wednesday I waited for 50 minutes and when it came it went straight by. On Friday I waited an hour, on Saturday 40 minutes and on Monday I gave up after again waiting for 40 minutes.

These buses are the only way people without cars can get around and they are being left stranded.

I phoned the bus firm's head office to complain and was told they would get back to me, but I won't be holding my breath.

Council 'criminalising' hard-up households

judym The fault lies with the system. There are very few people who cannot work through disability, most just choose not to. The previous government made it very easy to live a life on benefits, and this is now thankfully getting the shake-up it needs.

Penny Mead This council could have made this a lot easier on those that are struggling on the pittance that benefits are. Those of you who think we 'live a life of Riley' on the meagre amount we are given should maybe think again about the cost of living. And in reply to the 'go get a job' brigade I would point out that I worked for 20+ years and am now unfortunately too disabled to work much as I would love to be able to. It's disheartening, soul destroying and depressing so show a little empathy.

Stewards staff run 300k in aid of Mo Farah Foundation

A GROUP of school employees set themselves a mammoth task of running 300k (over 186 miles) in two days to raise money for the Mo Farah Foundation.

The team of 12 Stewards Academy staff - made up of teachers, technicians and managers - set off from the Millennium Stadium in Cardiff and ran back to the school in two days, running the last 3kms with 12 Stewards students.

The 150k a day event has raised £5,000 for the charity - set up by Olympic gold medalist Mo Farah - £3,000 of which will go towards paying for a well to be built in a village in North Somalia. The rest of the money will be used to support disadvantaged Stewards pupils.

Stewards Assistant Headteacher Simon Preece, who took part in the challenge, said: "We were buzzing - we were up at five o'clock on Saturday morning and got back to Harlow at 2am on Monday."

"We started in the players' tunnel at Cardiff City Football Club, then we went to the Millennium Stadium."

"It went as well as it could have gone."

Their trek, completed in 6km bursts, took the teachers out of Wales and across England to London and then up to Harlow.

PE teacher Geraldine McGarry, who provided support for the runners, added: "We wanted to raise aspirations for the kids, set a target and go for it."

"Ultimately, it just exploded into this huge event which involved the whole school."

FINAL PUSH: Staff and students cross the finish line after running 300k in two days and raising £5,000 for the Mo Farah Foundation and disadvantaged Stewards pupils

Memorial match for Carl Hoddle

A MEMORIAL football match will be held at Paringdon Sports Club in honour of Carl Hoddle, the brother of former England manager, Glenn Hoddle.

The game, which is raising money for breast cancer care at PAH, will see ex Spurs and Chelsea players - Glenn Hoddle XI - take on the Alemite Legends XI, a team made up of Alemite veteran players.

Organiser Peter Lucia said: "It has been five years since Carl passed away and I thought this would be a good way of celebrating him and his life."

"He would have been really up for a game like this and though it'll be an emotional day, it'll be a good one."

Kick-off is at 1pm and entry costs £2 on the door.

Punctuality boost for Greater Anglia

ALMOST 95 per cent of trains stopping at Harlow in the past four weeks have been on time, according to train operator Greater Anglia.

The firm has released figures showing that 94.5 per cent of its trains have arrived on schedule between May 26 to June 22, 2013. The Stansted Express, which passes Harlow Town, recorded 92.8 per cent of trains arriving on time.

The results mark a high point in train punctuality for the firm since it took over the franchise in February 2012.

Managing Director of Greater Anglia, Ruud Haket, said: "I am very pleased that we are continuing to deliver good and improving punctuality at Greater Anglia, working in partnership with Network Rail, to provide better train service performance."

Board members step down from Ambulance trust

THE new chairman of the East of England Ambulance Trust says a line has been drawn in the sand after five non-executive directors quit amid damning criticism of the service to patients across the region.

Caroline Bailes resigned last Wednesday and on Friday morning the organisation confirmed Margaret Stockham, Paul Remington, Anne Osborn, and Phil Barlow were also stepping down with immediate effect.

The mass exodus follows intense criticism of performance which climaxed earlier this week in the House of Commons. MPs from across the region - including Harlow's Robert Halfon - demanded action.

This week the trust said the five directors had resigned "in the best interests of patients and the trust and didn't want the issue of their roles to side-track the trust from having an unrelenting focus on patients, the care they're given, and the service they receive".

Dr Geoff Harris, new chairman of the trust, said: "This is a line in the sand for the trust and I thank the non-executive directors for their collective action. We must maintain our focus on continuing to drive up the service to patients whilst I focus on putting a new board in place."

He continued: "In my short time in post I have been very impressed with the staff and volunteers I have met in the trust - our staff do a fantastic job every day. My job is to ensure we now move forward, appoint new non executive directors and deliver the best possible service to patients."

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The trust will be securing some interim non-executive support to ensure the board can continue to operate. In the meantime, the recruitment process for new board members has started and two of these posts are already being advertised.

Dr Harris added: "At the trust's board meeting this week, we heard of some encouraging early signs of improvements including better response times and reduced sickness absence rates. However, turning round the organisation will take time and we need to deliver further and sustained service improvements to make this a high performing ambulance trust."

In a Governance Review in April this year, Dr Anthony Marsh, the former boss of ambulance services in Essex, concluded that the "current leadership from the board just isn't strong enough to take them forward".

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who launched a scathing attack on the board during a House Of Commons debate last week, told the Star: "It is a good start and I am glad that they have resigned and finally taken responsibility."

"It is right to have a complete branch shake-up so that Harlow residents can get the service they deserve. Let us hope that things will finally improve following these resignations."

Tots turn detectives as they join charity bug hunt in aid of hospital

FIDGETY FINGERS DAY NURSERY

Youngsters went in search of creepy-crawlies as they joined a fundraising bug hunt in aid of Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Children, staff and parents all took part in the fun-packed event, which saw participants put their sleuthing skills to good use to raise money for the breast cancer unit at PAH.

Wearing bright orange jumpers and face-paint, the tots armed themselves with buckets and magnifying glasses before setting out to find as many laminated insects as they could.

Nursery Manager Jackie Neagle said: "The bug hunt went really well and so far we have raised over £500.

"The children all had a fantastic time hunting out the bugs they had spent all week learning about - it was a big success.

"We had made the bugs and laminated them then staff hid about 200 of them around the nursery's gardens and the children had to find them all.

"All our children had spent the week learning about the bugs they were hunting so they knew their names, what they ate, and other interesting facts which helped their hunt.

"The money will be going to the Maria Falco breast cancer charity.

"She was a local lady who died of cancer and her charity works with Princess Alexandra Hospital and St Margaret's. The money will go towards important research."

Pilot flies in to give pupils a talk on aviation

ST ALBAN'S CATHOLIC ACADEMY

Ryanair pilot Jennifer Diggle gave pupils at the Harlow primary an idea of life in the cockpit when she visited the school.

The airline sent along Captain Diggle after receiving a request from the school to make a presentation to the 30 children in Year 1 before they break for their summer holidays.

Captain Diggle gave them an insight into what it's like to be a pilot for a day and then presented them with some Ryanair goodies to take home at the end of the presentation along with their new knowledge of aviation.

"It was a delight to talk to the pupils today about being a pilot working for Ryanair," said Captain Diggle.

"They are a charming and bright group of children. Who knows, perhaps one day one of them will be flying all of us around!"

School spokeswoman Sarah Niven said: "Both staff and children were very excited about hearing what it's like to be a pilot and delighted that Ryanair could join us.

"Captain Diggle gave the children a great insight into the world of aviation.

"Hopefully we have a few budding pilots here among us as a result!"

PASSMORES ACADEMY Youngsters spent a day giving back to their community as the secondary school sent 800 of its students out to help various projects across the town.

Small groups of pupils took part in various volunteering tasks including bag-packing in Asda, litter picking, bench painting at Great Parndon Community Association, dog poop scooping leafleting near Katherine's Primary School, helping at St Clare's Hospice, and weeding at Summers Farm as well as lots of DIY at Harlow Town Football Club.

Organiser Sheila Sumsion said: "We have had so many good reports about our students and Community Day and we've received some lovely compliments.

"St Clare Hospice actually received a comment from someone who was coming in with their mother who wasn't very keen about going there but was absolutely delighted to see the children gardening.

"Although the weather did get a little difficult we had the best part of the day to really take advantage of Community Day."

The annual event, which saw students take on various volunteering activities across the town, was organised in five weeks.

Ms Sumsion added: "It was a real success and everyone seemed to benefit from the day - we had to place 800 children in projects across the town and it was great.

"We're very grateful that, as a school, we had so many different groups and projects open their doors to us.

"We're hoping next year to have an even bigger range of options for our children.

"We had a lot of new projects such as our ASDA bag packers, who were actually raising money for St Clare Hospice and managed to raise £380 on the day which is great. The customers were all really generous.

"We also had children at the Leah Manning centre where the residents loved having the students over so much, they even invited them to take part in their bingo game!"

Students given a taste of the wider world

JEROUNDS INFANT SCHOOL Pupils had the chance to experience cultures from across the world as they celebrated different foods, dances and traditions in their Around the World week.

The Pyenest Road school spent the week teaching children about various countries around the world - including history lessons, a traditional dance class and a World Cafe which saw students tuck into foods from Russia, Poland, South Africa and Pakistan.

A staff member said: "We have been learning about other countries and cultures during Around the World week and it was a big success with the children who loved exploring new cultures.

"We have been working with a dance company called Educational Group who helped provide some fun lessons about traditional dancing from countries such as Gambia, Russia and Kenya.

"The children have also enjoyed trying different foods from the countries they have been learning about at our World Cafe.

"It's a theme we try to do annually and this has been the best year yet."

Catwalk show for fashion students

FASHION students strutted their stuff on the catwalk as models and their designs took centre stage for Harlow College's annual charity fashion show.

BTEC Level 3 fashion and clothing students showed off their talents with a catwalk show where second year fashionistas were able to present their final year collections of three themed outfits.

Course tutor Julie Barton said: "We felt it went very well, it is the fifth time we have done the fashion show now and we think we're getting better each year."

"It is quite a stressful time for students in the run-up to the show - both first years who have never done it before and second years who have to show their final collections. A lot goes on in the background as well with research and development but everyone has done really well."

The fashion show - which is mainly student-run with students modelling, designing and photographing the event - also managed to raise £160 for Breast Cancer Campaign, with first-year students creating their own piece of clothing for the charity. Students also showcased clothing for Debenhams menswear as part of their first-year projects.

Ms Barton said: "We had buckets during the show and have raised a good sum of money.

"We are all very proud of our students, the fashion show is a brilliant opportunity for them and they all did so well. It is a fantastic achievement."

"I worked mostly with the first years during this year and their work is incredible so we're hoping that next year's show will work on this success and be even better."

She added: "The quality of work and the amount of effort that goes into each piece is fantastic - and it keeps getting better. We had great compliments from our principal, who has worked at seven colleges and said she was blown away by the fashion show, which is wonderful."

Trek team finish fastest in charity race

A TEAM of thrillseekers braved treacherous terrain to complete a 50 mile trek in 24 hours to raise money for medical charity MedEup4Kids.

Terri Howard (56), of Church Langley, Veronica Johanssen (54), of Park Lane, Tina Fawcett (50), from Stansted, and Tanya Bartram (41), from Saffron Walden, were awarded the 'Fastest Female Team' after completing the Trek 50 challenge, finishing 6th overall out of 33 groups.

Terri said: "We all really enjoyed the challenge, however gruelling it was. "We all have aches, pains and blisters but what an experience - it will live with us forever."

The group, named Fab 50s Walkers & Talkers, had to walk 50 miles in 24 hours, including overnight, through the Pennines on the Lancashire and Yorkshire borders.

Terri added: "We made it in 20 hours and 5 minutes and although we got lost a few times, it was an amazing experience. We met some amazing people and the organisers were fantastic. It was great and such a buzz to be the fastest female team."

The Fab 50s, who hope to raise £2,000, have already raised £1,937.09. The team now have until the end of the month to reach their target.

Mark, who managed to raise almost £350, added: "Doing the charity skydive for Open Road was such a thrilling experience!"

"Not only was it an extremely positive personal experience, but by doing so on behalf of Open Road, myself and Lauren raised money and awareness for the vital work Open Road does for the local community.

St Clare Hospice's speedy fundraiser

ST Clare Hospice's latest fundraiser is all about the need for speed.

The Hastingwood-based hospice will be hosting a karting event at Rye House Stadium on Friday, July 19 where teams can battle it out on the track to win the St Clare Trophy.

The cost per team is £350 for up to five drivers and the hospice is hoping at least 15 teams will sign up for the race day which could help raise almost £5,000.

Drivers, who must be 16 or over, will be given a full briefing on the day and will be provided with racewear.

For more information, call (01279) 773750.

THINK PINK: St Clare Hospice's volunteer gardeners get ready for the Midnight Walk

Walkers in the pink as countdown begins

WITH just days to go until this year's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk, staff and supporters are urging those yet to sign up to think pink and help make it a night to remember.

The bright pink theme is already spreading across the town as the countdown to Saturday's event begins, with the charity's directors kicking things off by sporting pink fluffy ears.

Hospice shop staff quickly followed suit by wearing bright pink t-shirts, with Midnight Walk fever then spreading to St Clare's van drivers and InPatient Unit nurses, who grew their very own pink angel wings!

Now even the hospice's volunteer gardeners, who help tend and maintain the Hastingwood-based charity's outside space, are beginning to resemble the rabbits that make the lawns their home after donning pink bunny ears and t-shirts.

Today (Thursday) and Friday will see St Clare Hospice decked out in pink as staff, volunteers and a corporate team from Merck pack the long-awaited goodie bags which will be handed to hundreds of participants on Saturday night.

Director of fundraising, Elizabeth Palfreman, said:

THE Midnight Walk takes place on Saturday, July 6, starting and finishing in The Water Gardens car park (outside Asda) in Harlow town centre.

The walk will start at 10.30pm and this year there is a choice of two distances - 5km and 10km.

But there will be plenty going on before the official start. You can have your face painted in shocking pink designs, buy pink angel wings and bunny ears and even take part in a Zumba warm-up.

Online registration to take part has already closed, but you can still register to take part on the night for £20, with registration opening at 8.30pm.

"Everyone registered on the night will receive one of our fabulous pink t-shirts, there will be a snack and a bottle of water provided by the Water Gardens, a Heart FM sticker or pen and there will be a 20 per cent off Nando's voucher.

"We've also managed to incorporate some gorgeous toiletries from Bayliss & Harding as well as Fairtrade soaps thanks to the generous sponsorship of the Visionary Soap Company."

The number of walkers has increased by 20 per cent in the last two weeks but those who have not yet registered can still do so on the night for £20.

Everyone taking part is encouraged to fundraise and help the hospice reach its £75,000 target, enough to fund the eight-bed inpatient unit for 19 days. If every participant raised £170, each walker would have done enough to fund the inpatient unit for an hour.

Those taking part in Saturday's walk are advised to start arriving at the Water Gardens from 8.30pm, particularly if they are signing up on the night.

Heart FM will be playing hits to get the crowd going, while a mini-zumba exercise class led by Andrea Rigg will help participants limber up before the event is officially started at 10.30pm by Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

Halfon blasts Tesco over 'disrespectful' Tweet

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has hit out at Tesco after a senior manager posted a "callous" message on social networking site Twitter referring to the company's decision to close five of its distribution centres - including the firm's fresh food depot in Flex Meadow, Harlow.

The message, which was posted in June and has since been deleted, was tweeted by Tesco's UK and Ireland distribution director Steve Strachota to over 500 followers.

It read: "5 depots closing and 3 new ones ready to go. Awesome teamwork, courageous leadership, a bit of luck. #worldclass".

But Mr Halfon branded the tweet "disrespectful" and has now written to the supermarket giant demanding an explanation.

His letter states: "It seems to me that given what has happened in Harlow and the upset it caused to many people, your senior managers appear to be wallowing in what they have done.

"I find it very sad that a company that I have had huge respect for seems to be so callous in their treatment of workers, many of whom have given over 20 years of service to Tesco."

The Tory MP has also tabled an Early Day Motion in Parliament highlighting Mr Strachota's tweet and stating his disappointment at the firm's treatment of its staff.

But a Tesco spokeswoman this week defended the message, saying it was meant to acknowledge the "difficult decisions" the firm's management had taken.

"This tweet was intended to acknowledge that difficult decisions had been taken in order to make significant changes to our distribution network," she told the Star.

"Steve has spoken to our colleagues at Harlow in person to explain this and they recognised that it should be seen in that context.

"Nonetheless, we sincerely apologise if the tweet caused any offence, and it has now been removed."

Student flies flag for Asda community project

A FLAG design competition held to celebrate Asda's Community Life initiative's first birthday has announced its winner.

Jordan Galloway (17), a Harlow Fields School student, was picked out by Asda due to its artistic qualities. The supermarket called on the creative talents of young artists to design a flag that captured the spirit of the community. The competition was opened to celebrate the store's commitment to support local life by fundraising and volunteering through the Community Life initiative and Jordan's winning entry is now on display.

Community Life colleague at Asda Harlow, Rachel Forth, said: "Flags are symbolic of a neighbourhood and its identity and we wanted one to celebrate Community Life and our fantastic fundraising achievements.

"We really have a community to be proud of and now we have a fabulous flag to be proud of too. It was so difficult choosing a winner but Jordan's flag jumped out at us - there's some real artistic talent there!"

New constables wanted for force

ESSEX Police are calling on residents with a passion for policing to apply to become Harlow's next wave of police constables.

PCs are responsible for the protection of residents and property, the prevention and detection of crime and the maintenance of public order.

An open night regarding the recruitment process will be held at Harlow Police Station today (Thursday) from 7pm-9pm. Chief Inspector Justin Smith will talk visitors through his role in Harlow Police and a range of officers will give an insight into their 'normal' day.

CI Smith said: "By holding an open night at the police station I

am hoping that I can offer an insight into what is a very challenging but equally rewarding occupation.

"Without doubt, times are tough across the public sector. I find myself working with a smaller budget yet I still need to deliver a first class service, which is why I am keen to ensure as many people from Harlow are aware of the opportunity as possible so we stand a chance of recruiting the very best local talent to police Harlow for the future.

"I've even started my own Twitter account to spread the word - @CIJustinSmith."

Applicants must have a permanent home in Essex, have achieved an A-Level or equivalent standard of education, own a full UK manual driving licence and be 18 or over.

The initial phase of the recruitment process will close at 4pm tomorrow (Friday) and the top-performing applicants will progress to the next stage.

To book a space on the open night at Harlow Police Station, email Greg Wood on greg.wood@essex.pnn.police.uk.

For more information or to apply visit www.essex.police.uk/recruitment/police\_officers.aspx.

Police launch appeal over burglary suspects

POLICE are appealing for help from the Harlow public to find two wanted men.

Ian Clark (56), who was last known to be living in the Brightlingsea area, is wanted in connection with a burglary in Great Auger Street, Harlow, which was committed on May 31.

Detectives also want to trace 23-year-old Todd Bow, who was last known to be living in Spring Hills and is wanted in connection with a burglary at a property in Carters Mead on June 17.

During the break-in, the property was ransacked and an iPad, Samsung Ace mobile phone and pair of hair straighteners worth a total of £430 were stolen.

Anyone with information is asked to call Essex Police on 101.

Ambulance service trials twin-bin system

THE East of England Ambulance Service is trialling the use of state-of-the-art technology to ensure crews have equipment when they need it.

The 'twin bin' system is a storage unit holding 89 medical products in a set of twin containers. When one of the units is empty, the door is slid across to reveal a second bin which then activates a radiofrequency identification which sends a message to suppliers that new stock is needed.

EAST Duty Manager Martin Lockhart said: "It's a fantastic product which allows managers like myself to focus on their role without having to check that our station has enough equipment every day.

"It would be great to secure funding for the product."

Teenage inventor builds 'ingenious' one-man sub

A US high-school student has put the skills he learned in design technology class to good use - by building a fully functioning one-man submarine!

18-year-old Justin Beckerman, pictured right, spent six months and nearly £1,300 on his sub, which he has named The Nautilus.

He has now been nicknamed MacGyver by his classmates in homage to the fictional secret agent known for his inventive use of everyday items.

The Nautilus is powered by a fishing boat motor and has a body made of lightweight corrugated plastic with a viewing dome converted from a skylight.

It also features ballast tanks, air compressors, sonar, paddles, regulators and valves from an old soda machine, float sensors, four battery systems, a horn, a two-way radio, a PA system, a wireless camera and 200 watts of LED lighting.

"I wanted to see what I could build and figure out how I could build it," said Mr Beckerman.

Although he has successfully kept it afloat on water, the sub has yet to make its first dive.

But he is confident the 9ft sub, which has safety features including pumps and a breathing hose, can dive to depths of 30ft.

"I'm not nervous, I'm very excited," he said. "I have a safety checklist, just like airplane pilots."

Hero soldier helped onto property ladder

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN ex-soldier injured in the line of duty has been given a helping hand onto the property ladder thanks to a new development of affordable homes in Sawbridgeworth which has been praised by Housing Minister and local MP Mark Prisk.

Arron Dindyal has been able to buy his family's first property through Circle Housing Group's shared ownership scheme, meaning he is now closer to his rehabilitation centre in the town.

The family's three-bedroom home is one of 22 built in School Lane, next to Leventhorpe School, by South Anglia Housing, part of Circle Housing Group, after it secured funding from the Government's Affordable Homes Programme.

The properties can all be adapted for people with disabilities, and members of the Armed Forces will be housed as a priority according to new Government guidance.

It can easily be adapted to Arron's needs, helping him regain his independence after being seriously injured while on duty in Iraq in 2005.

He lost part of his digestive system and suffered spinal damage, meaning he has limited mobility and is often wheelchair-bound or has to walk with a stick. He also suffers from arthritis.

The 30-year-old, who served with the 1st Battalion of The Royal Anglian Regiment, said: "We had heard of shared ownership schemes before but weren't sure how they worked until we came across this new development.

"The adaptations we can make will mean a huge difference to our lives and we're over the moon with our new home."

All 22 homes feature an open plan layout, larger rooms and corridors, a downstairs toilet that can be converted into a wet room, and laminated flooring to allow for wheelchair access. Energy efficiency features include solar panels, modern insulation and water butts.

Mr Prisk MP said: "What is good news about this particular development is that it has allowed those that are most in need to be catered for under the new guidance brought in when prioritising housing allocations to residents."

HOME FOR A HERO: Ex-soldier Arron Dindyal with wife Cheryl and sons Josh and Liam

Managing Director of South Anglia Housing, Tracy White said: "We're fully committed to providing affordable housing in the area as well as homes that are fit for purpose and meet the diverse needs of our customers."

"We're delighted that Mr Dindyal and his family are pleased with their property and wish them every happiness in their new home."

Burglars spared jail

THREE young burglars who raided two houses in the same Harlow street have been spared jail after being handed suspended sentences.

On Monday (July 1), the gang's lookout and driver Kyle Eke (20), of Red Willows, Harlow, was sentenced at Chelmsford Crown Court.

He pleaded guilty to burgling homes in Shawbridge, Harlow, between February 2 and February 5 this year and stealing car keys, personal items and a Mini.

He was given a 12-month term in a young offenders' institution, suspended for two years, and ordered to carry out 180 hours unpaid work and pay his victim £87 compensation.

The two other culprits - Connor Smithers (18), of Northbrooks and Bruce Williams (21), from Nazeing - were dealt with last month after pleading guilty to the same offences.

Williams received 18 months, suspended for two years, with £180 compensation, and Smithers 12 months, suspended for 18 months, with £125 compensation.

WIN Tickets to The Amen Corner at the National

RUFUS Norris returns to direct an exhilarating new production of The Amen Corner, the celebrated play written by James Baldwin.

As the gospel singing soars, Sister Margaret - the uncompromising pastor of her Harlem church - has a congregation in revolt against her hardline leadership.

Their resentment escalates with the return of her absentee husband, a trombone-playing sinner, and the wayward conduct of her son. With charges of hypocrisy hanging in the air, Margaret's devout world looks perilously close to falling apart.

Marianne Jean-Baptiste plays Sister Margaret and is joined by Sharon D Clarke and Lucian Msamati.

Beautifully expressed through the rousing beat of the gospel choir, the community's sense of love, grief and spiritual survival will be given full voice by the Company and the London Community Gospel Choir.

The Evening Standard said of the show: "This rare revival by Rufus Norris has a confident vigour and boasts a fine cast.

The performances deserve to be savoured" while The Daily Telegraph said: "A little piece of heaven. This wonderfully acted production finds the National Theatre in spirit-lifting form".

The Amen Corner is being staged at the National Theatre until August 14 and this week we are giving you the chance to win a pair of tickets. To enter all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Tributes paid to Shakoor family

world full of peace and love, not hatred."

Earlier in the day, former classmates of Sohaib, Muneeb and Rayyan took turns to get up on stage and pay tribute to their tragic friends. They then waited patiently as Dr Shakoor cut the ribbon on their new jungle gym - donated by play equipment firm Fawns - before testing it out for the first time

Speaking after the unveiling, school headteacher Lesley Lynn said she was "incredibly proud" of her pupils.

"Today was always going to be a difficult day, but also one where we were able to celebrate the lives of a lovely, lovely family so cruelly taken from us," she told the Star.

"It has been very tough for pupils and staff at the school, but I am incredibly proud of everyone for pulling together and doing their best to carry on following the tragedy.

"For [the pupils], the installation of this fantastic new play equipment is a real reward after a difficult year, and a fitting and lasting tribute to their friends.

"We couldn't have done this without the support and fundraising efforts of Neil, Donna, the Friends Of Abbotswood and everyone else in this wonderful community who gave up their time or made a donation - I can't thank them enough."

Donna Betteridge, who spearheaded the fundraising campaign with husband Neil, told the Star she was "overwhelmed" at the outcome.

"I still can't believe what started out as a fundraising raffle all those months ago has resulted in all this - it's incredible," she said.

"It's been tough, but just seeing the pupils' reaction when they were allowed onto the new play equipment for the first time made it all worthwhile.

"The fact so many people got involved along the way shows what an incredible community spirit there is in Harlow and just how much support there is out there for Dr Shakoor."

MHP reveals Guilty Secret at Moot Hall

INTRIGUE, suspense and plenty of thrills are on the agenda as Moot House Players bring the curtain down on their current season next week.

Harlow's longest-running am-dram group has turned to edge-of-your-seat thriller Guilty Secret by Roger Mortimer-Smith as its final production of the summer - and it promises to be a real nail-biter.

The plot revolves around two East End chancers, George and Lennie, who kidnap a wealthy heiress and take her to a remote farmhouse.

George is confident her father will pay £5m for her safe return, but slow-witted Lennie becomes suspicious of his partner-in-crime's intentions when he discovers the safehouse has been rented in his name.

Suspecting that George plans to double-cross him, frame him for the crime and keep the ransom for himself, Lennie is faced with a do-or-die dilemma as he tries to work out who is really behind the kidnap before it is too late for him to dodge the bullet.

>>> Guilty Secret will be staged at Moot Hall, The Stow, from July 11-13. Performances start at 8pm and tickets cost £8 (£6 concessions) from (01279) 639170.

Festival fever as Linkfest returns to park

CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

GLASTONBURY may have been and gone for another year, but the festival season is only just about to begin in Harlow.

The first instalment of live music extravaganza Linkfest returns to the Town Park on Sunday (July 7) - and co-organiser Jamie Pring, pictured above, is hoping the event will prove to be another big success.

"Last year was the first time we ran Linkfest in the Town Park, and despite some dodgy weather we managed to pull it off," he told the Star.

"It was great to see the Bandstand back in use, and for those of us old enough to remember the legendary open-air concerts of the 70s and 80s, it was a reminder of how great those gigs were."

In fact, Jamie was so thrilled with the success of last year's bank holiday weekend he and co-organisers the GPCA, The Square and Harlow Rock School are putting on two separate events this summer, with this Sunday's mini-festival billed as the "little sister" of a two-day event planned for August.

"We had such a great response from those who came last year, I just thought 'why not put on two next time?'" Jamie explained.

"It obviously means we can expand the live bill, and it gives those who can't make one of the dates the chance to attend the other."

"This Sunday's event isn't so much a warm-up event as the little sister of the August Bank Holiday festival."

Sunday's bill features top Coldplay tribute act Coolplay, local favourites Repertoire Dogs, sultry songstress Mary Cameron and talented vocalist Lee Van.

The family-friendly event will also feature attractions including bouncy castles, food stalls and a fun fair.

"The whole reason we set up Linkfest was to give people a great day out in their own town," Jamie added.

"We've got some fantastic bands and attractions, and hopefully we'll have some nice weather, too."

"So if you want a great day out, get down to the park on Sunday!"

>>> Linkfest comes to Harlow Town Park on Sunday (July 7) from 2pm-8pm. For more information, log on to the event's Facebook page.

Double, double, toil and trouble as HTC stage new production of The Witches

ONE of Roald Dahl's most spellbinding tales makes the jump from page to stage next week when Harlow Theatre Company puts on a deliciously dark production of The Witches.

A faithful adaptation of the author's 1983 novel, this children's classic tells the tale of an unnamed seven-year-old boy who has a terrifying run-in with a dastardly coven of real-life witches hell-bent on riding the world of children.

Holidaying with his Grandmother at an English seaside resort, our hero stumbles across a witches' convention while training his pet mice in the ballroom of the hotel.

After watching in horror as the group transform a fellow hotel guest into a mouse after lacing his chocolate with a magic potion, one of the witches sniffs him out and he too is turned into a rodent.

Escaping to his Grandmother's hotel room, the boy and his new pal must then defy all the odds in a bid to foil the Grand High Witch's dastardly plot.

Director Kyle Jagers told the Star: "This is a faithful adaptation of one of Roald Dahl's best-loved stories, so hopefully it will appeal to audience members young and old."

"It's also perfect timing if you are a Roald Dahl fan, as our production closely coincides with the musical version of Charlie & The Chocolate Factory which opens soon in the West End."

>>> The Witches opens on Wednesday (July 10) at Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow. The show runs until next Saturday (July 13), with performances starting at 7:30pm plus a 3pm Saturday matinee. Tickets can be purchased via www.harlowtheatrecompany.ticketsource.co.uk or by calling 0844 8700 887.

Hidden treasures?

BEFORE you chuck out your old gardening tools or that urn you inherited from your grandmother, check out their value because Jonty Hearnden, presenter of the BBC1 show Cash In The Attic, says you could be sitting on a goldmine. He reckons you may be able to sell anything from old paving slabs to large concrete urns, ancient tools, aged weathervanes and benches for hundreds – or even thousands.

People who've inherited property or are clearing houses for relatives are the most likely candidates to find an Aladdin's cave of treasure in the garden.

"The most common items that may be lying around are garden urns or statuary of the 20th century, the moulded urns and the moulded figurines and birdbaths which you think are just old and don't have any value," he says.

"Actually, there's a very good second-hand value for those items because dealers and interior designers like urns which look really weathered. They might only be 20 to 40 years old, but there's a definite market for antique-looking reproduction garden urns and other items."

Such items may be made of concrete, otherwise known as reconstituted stone, and the ones fetching the most money have an 18th or 19th century feel to them, he says.

"I went into a shop the other day where there were four identical urns that were 2ft tall by 1ft wide with box bushes in them. They looked a million dollars and they were probably around £400 each."

Birdbaths, weathervanes and other ephemera all have a value, he says. "You could easily get £100 for a birdbath in an auction sale. It has to be weathered so that it doesn't look new, which can take a few years."

Coalbrookdale garden benches, which are made of highly ornate and Victorian-looking cast iron, are extremely sought-after items which can fetch between £3,000-£6,000, he observes. The 19th century benches are often stamped Coalbrookdale or C-B Dale

Co, and the seat is probably made of timber slats. "People may be sitting on a fortune because they just don't realise how expensive these benches are," Jonty says.

There is also a market for old garden tools, desired for their craftsmanship. "Garden tools have a certain value. Don't just throw them away. There will be somebody out there who wants them because they just love the feel of old wooden handles and cast metalware that's not made to the same standard today. Good places to sell those sorts of objects are eBay and car boot sales, as people will often pay between £10-£30 for old, good quality forks and trowels if they look presentable. Expect to get less on eBay. Go for the car boot sale if you're selling anything under £20."

Now, a new website, cashintheattic.com, has been launched to help people value their items.

After uploading a few snaps of items to the website, experts will value their worth, charging from £5 per valuation. The site can also help visitors research pricing and provenance.

TRICK OR TREAT: Jesse Eisenberg plays a crafty conjurer in new thriller Now You See Me

Smoke and mirrors can't hide magic thriller's flaws

NOW YOU SEE ME

certificate 12A, 1h 55m

NOTHING is what it seems in Louis Letterier's high-stakes game of cat and mouse between four crowd-pleasing Las Vegas illusionists and the FBI.

Screenwriters Ed Solomon, Boaz Yakin and Edward Ricourt hold all the aces and for the opening 30 minutes, their collective sleight of hand dazzles and intrigues in equal measure. Now You See Me sets up the tricks, engineers them with elan and coolly reveals the ingenious method behind the on-stage madness.

Alas, when it comes to the grand final illusion which takes up most of the second hour, director Letterier untethers the plot from plausibility and logic, allowing everything to teeter risibly on coincidence, physical improbability and outrageous good fortune. We might just forgive the script its outlandishness if a tongue was wedged firmly in cheek, but the film is deadly serious about its jiggery pokery.

The prologue introduces us to close-up conjurer Daniel Atlas (Jesse Eisenberg), escapist Henley Reeves (Isla Fisher), mentalist Merrit McKinney (Woody Harrelson) and street magician Jack Wilder (Dave Franco), who are all successful in their own fields, dazzling small audiences with their showmanship.

Each performer receives a Tarot card bearing the same information: "March 29, 4:44pm 45 East Evan St. NY, NY". As instructed, the quartet arrive at an apartment in New York, where a dazzling light show reveals an illusion that will stun the world.

One year later, Daniel, Henley, Merrit and Jack are reborn as The Four Horsemen, and in front of a live audience, they choose an audience member at random before transporting them to a bank in Paris to raid millions from the vault.

Within hours, they are under arrest and facing interrogation by FBI Agent Dylan Rhodes (Mark Ruffalo) and Interpol agent Alma Dray (Melanie Laurent). But it's only a matter of time before the cops learn that they underestimate the magicians at their peril.

SHOT on location at the San Francisco corporate headquarters of an internet search engine, Shawn Levy's buddy comedy is essentially a glossy promo for a new generation of hi-tech companies that hope to inspire creativity by transforming workspaces into playgrounds.

"It's rated the best place in America to work," rhapsodises Vince Vaughn at the beginning of the film as he and Owen Wilson embark on a quest for "the intangible stuff that made a search engine an engine for change".

They play watch salesmen Billy (Vaughn) and Nick (Wilson), who are stunned when their company goes out of business.

"Watches are obsolete. So are you!"

laments their boss (John Goodman). Unperturbed, Billy applies for an internship and the two men are delighted to sail through a video conference interview.

Arriving on the west coast, Billy and Nick discover they will be pitted against dozens of other applicants in team-based challenges that will weed out the mental wheat from the chaff.

The Internship has a smattering of laughs but Levy's film increasingly becomes clogged with sickly sentiment. Some of the gags wear thin very quickly, like Billy repeatedly saying "on the line" instead of online, or inspiring his team to greatness with references to Flashdance.

Harlow Cineworld: Today 21.00 Friday 12.00/14.30/17.45/21.00 Saturday 14.30/17.45/21.00 Sunday-Wednesday 12.00/14.30/17.45/21.00

still on screen

DESPICABLE ME 2 (2D + 3D) Gru (voiced by Steve Carell) is living in unconventional domestic bliss with his girls Margo (Miranda Cosgrove), Edith (Dana Gaier) and Agnes (Elsie Fisher). He has turned his back on skulduggery and now devotes his subterranean bunker to the production of jams and jellies under the supervision of technical genius Dr Nefario (Russell Brand). But when a new threat to global peace emerges, Lucy Wilde (Kristen Wiig) from The Anti-Villain League stuns Gru with her lipstick taser and pressgangs him into working for the good guys to uncover the mastermind responsible for the theft of a top secret serum.

THIS IS THE END Seth Rogen and Evan Goldberg poke merciless fun at the decimation of the US west coast in this raucous comedy in which the current crop of cinema's bright young things play exaggerated versions of themselves. The film opens with Rogen excitedly welcoming actor buddy Jay Baruchel to Los Angeles, a city which Jay clearly loathes. And he's less than thrilled at the prospect of attending a house party thrown by James Franco. Then pandemonium ensues. Bright blue beams of light scythe down from the sky and suck up hundreds of people. The buddies race back to the party but Jay immediately wants to leave, telling Seth, "I don't want to die in James Franco's house!"

WORLD WAR Z (3D & 2D) Gerry Lane (Brad Pitt) is a retired United Nations investigator who devotes his time to his wife Karin (Mireille Enos) and daughters Constance (Sterling Jerins) and Rachel (Abigail Hargrove). During a drive through Philadelphia, the Lanes witness the spread of a disease which transforms men, women and children into merciless predators with a single bite. Gerry's old boss at the UN, Thierry Umutoni (Fana Mokoena), guarantees Karin, Constance and Rachel passage on an aircraft carrier if Gerry will agree to travel behind enemy lines to discover the source of the outbreak.

MAN OF STEEL When planet Krypton faces destruction, Jor-El (Russell Crowe) sends his son to Earth in the hope the child will be spared. The infant is adopted and raised by farmers Jonathan and Martha Kent (Kevin Costner, Diane Lane), who christen the boy Clark and raise him as their own flesh and blood. From an early age, Clark (Cooper Timberline and Dylan Sprayberry) realises he is different from the other children and when a school bus is involved in a terrible accident he uses his untapped powers to save his classmates. Years later the arrival on Earth of war-mongering Kryptonian General Zod (Michael Shannon) forces Clark to reveal his heroic alter ego but men in power are terrified by Superman's abilities and view him as the enemy rather than mankind's potential saviour.

special screening

Tracey Waples Property Editor

AS I write, the weather has finally started to behave like it should do for this time of year.

Not only does a little sunshine seem to bring out the best in people, it also draws attention to areas of our outside space that might be in need of a little nurturing.

Apart from the usual collection of weeds, it's often the fencing that could do with some attention. Fence panels don't last forever - the wind blows them over, the rain rots them and dogs, squirrels and foxes love making holes in them.

Rotting and broken fence panels can look terrible but a few new ones can instantly transform your garden or terrace. When buying new fence panels, most of us buy overlap panels which for a 5ft x 6ft panel typically costs around £15-£25. They come with a 10-year guarantee, but only if you treat them annually, using a specified preservative.

If you buy a pressure treated panel, they are almost twice as expensive, but require no maintenance and are often guaranteed for up to 15 years.

However, if you want to do something more interesting there are now a whole host of exciting designs out there that can turn your garden into something really special. Slatted panels and, painted slatted panels can transform an area immediately. They look so much better than their flimsy, standard issue cousins and don't have to cost a fortune.

There are many companies who offer a wealth of different fencing options but The Garden Trellis Company is well worth a look for some fabulous bespoke designs and great ideas.

Your fence panels don't have to be dull; they can be desirable items in their own right and can also be used as a cheap and easy way to divide up your garden or to screen any unsightly bins or compost heaps.

Deciding On Price (Part One)

Whatever anyone might say about location, condition, proximity to schools, size, etc., it is the price at which a property is initially marketed that is the key to a successful sale.

But emotions often cloud good judgement. The chance to secure a high price can prompt sellers to quote too much, and the house then misses the early buyer activity that is most likely to produce a sale. Quote too little and the resulting immediate sale can fuel resentment as you might feel you could have sold for more.

So the heart must not rule the head here. You may have put a lot of time, love and money into the property and naturally you want your asking price to reflect this. Maybe you need a certain amount to secure another property, or you simply want to track national house-price trends. Perhaps you are taking your guide from a similar property that has recently sold nearby.

However, the only thing that really counts is the supply of able buyers in relation to the supply of comparable properties, and what those buyers are prepared to pay in view of such competition. Local estate agents are the only people who have a handle on both. Armed with this information your agent can make an informed recommendation as to an asking price that will maximise your chances of selling at an attractive figure within a realistic timescale. (See part two next week)

If you are considering selling your property and would like a carefully considered and qualified view of the likely sale price of your property in the current market, then please feel free to contact us on 01279 444988.

CITY COMMUTERS ESCAPE TO THE COUNTRY AT CARRINGTON GRANGE IN TEWIN

After making a stress-free move to a luxurious new home at Carrington Grange Marco and Debbie Silva think it's the ideal place for family living.

"Carrington Grange is in an excellent area, and the houses are a really good size, which is just what we were looking for.

"We love the peace and quiet because the hustle and bustle of the City can sometimes get a bit on top of you. It's a lovely place to come home to.

"Our new home really has the feeling of being quite open with lots of light, which we thought was very important. The big kitchen is a good selling point and I think it makes a really nice socialising space.

"We've enjoyed dealing with the Sales Executive Caroline and she's made purchasing our new home here a very stress-free process for us. This is the first time I've bought a new-build home and everything has gone very well."

Carrington Grange resident

BY MATT KIMBERLEY

OF the DS-line model trio, the DS3 has been the runaway success. But recent updates to both the DS5 executive saloon and this, the DS4 coupe-crossover, have meant that sales for those have picked up, too.

Maybe the DS4 concept was a little too out there for some people. Neither a proper crossover like the class-leading Nissan Qashqai nor a proper coupe like the old three-door sporty C4 could claim to be, the DS4 has been left somewhat out on a limb.

But what a difference a little time spent with it makes, because under the DS4's skin there's a brilliant car.

In fairness, there's a brilliant-looking car on the outside, too. It's striking; sitting noticeably higher than a typical hatchback but with arguably Citroen's finest styling smothered all over it. When you actually look at it there isn't a bad angle on the thing.

As well as five doors you get a good size and evenly-shaped boot, albeit with no spare wheel underneath.

Visibility backwards over it from the driver's seat is hardly perfect thanks to the sleek coupe-like lines cutting down on

Fact File

Citroen DS4 HDi 160 Automatic DSport,

£25,360
on the road

ENGINE: 2.0-litre turbo diesel producing 158bhp
TRANSMISSION: 6-speed automatic driving front wheels
PERFORMANCE: Maximum speed 129mph, 0-62mph 9.9s
ECONOMY: 49.6mpg
CO<sub>2</sub> RATING: 149g/km

the quantity of glass, but you can't have everything.

The updates on this model are pretty significant. It has a new six-speed automatic gearbox connected to the more familiar HDi 160 2.0-litre diesel engine, making it, on paper at least, the most relaxed DS4 you can buy.

The gearbox has two modes: Drive and Sport. The difference is simply that Sport holds onto gears for longer than Drive - shifts aren't noticeably any faster and it's only marginally keener to kick down.

The secret is that whatever your aim, Drive is the best mode to be in. It changes up nice and early under light throttle pressure, displaying the sort of seamless, genteel precision you expect only in much more expensive cars.

Push the pedal harder and the gearbox tends to stay in the perfect gear to ride the wave of torque from the creamy-smooth engine, making surprisingly rapid progress possible at the drop of a hat without the engine getting too rowdy.

It's a very impressive set-up, if not the most frugal, and it feels a lot more potent than the on-paper figures suggest.

It's clever, too, holding the gear you're in if you head downhill and lift off the throttle, even if the revs rise as gravity pulls the car ever faster. This keeps engine braking higher and increases safety.

The one imperfection is the sixth ratio's gearing. While the lower gears are quite tall to keep revs low and fuel consumption down, sixth sits at over 2,000rpm at 70mph - which is too high for this car. The drivetrain could easily handle a taller ratio to bring that down to 1,700rpm or so.

There are other niggles on this DSport range-topping model, like stunning but incredibly vulnerable wheels that absolutely shouldn't be taken near anything resembling a kerb. The electronic handbrake, like every other of its type, is slow to operate and when you're doing lots of short trips on the same day it gets wearing.

However, back on the rosy side of the fence and the DS4's brakes are incredible. Wide tyres are partly to thank for offering a large contact patch, but the way the car shrugs off speed in an emergency stop scenario is staggering.

The ride is firm but well controlled for the most part. It's only when hitting sharper bumps that the excess of compression damping shows up and sends a bigger bump through the cabin.

But for the most part it's a lovely cabin to sit in. Stylish seats unlike any others out there are more comfortable than they look, but they're also on the firm side in the same way that many German cars' seats are. It's designed to help them last longer without starting to sag.

The interior styling is also especially fresh and different without being impractical, although the digital rev counter, which works in blocks of 250rpm, isn't precise enough for my tastes.

The materials are solid, though, and a big step up from Citroen's non-DS cars. The whole package feels substantial and well made.

I came away from my time with this new DS4 variant massively impressed with its all-round ability, and particularly with the gearbox.

It's one of the best automatic diesel cars I've driven in years.

Swedish star signs permanent deal with Rye House Rockets

TWO years of negotiation have been brought to a conclusion with the announcement that Swedish star Anders Mellgren has now become a full Rye House Rocket asset.

The rider's contract was originally held by Newport, but upon the Welsh club's closure transferred to the BSPA.

The latest development is a measure of Mellgren's mutual bond with the Rockets, and promoter Len Silver said: "Anders is very pleased with it and so am I."

Rockets' marathon haul up to Newcastle saw them on the end of both a long Sunday night and a long, contemplative journey home as they conceded 60 points for the second time this season.

There was brief promise early on, as a 4-2 from winner Kasper Lykke and Simon Lambert, after Lewis Kerr had fallen in Heat 2, helped the Rockets to a 13-11 lead after four races.

Mellgren, in Heat 10, was the only other visiting rider to post a victory, however, as the team was ultimately worn down by a powerful Byker side that fielded unbeaten stars in Richie Worrall and Andrew Tully.

Rye House team manager John Sampford admitted: "We are obviously disappointed with the final margin of the defeat, but it was not really unexpected."

It was a very different story two days previously when the Rockets gained their first win of the season, a 50-44 victory against Somerset (see www.harlowstar.co.uk for more).

Mitchinson helps England win GB Isles tournament

STEVE Mitchinson returned to Harlow triumphant after his success on his return to the England Bowls team at the weekend.

England won the men's British Isles International Series, defeating Scotland, Wales and Ireland to clinch the title in Dublin.

Having been previously dropped, the Church Langley-based bowler, a member at Bush Fair's Tye Green Bowls Club, was restored to the side and looked in tip-top form.

Mitchinson's rink was skipped by Rob Newman. They lost to the Scottish team skipped by G. Logan 13-20 in their first match.

But Mitchinson's team bounced back against the Welsh, as Newman's rink beat R. Weale's rink 22-11. Newman's rink followed this up by beating the Irish team skipped by I. McClure 21-11.

Overall, England beat Scotland 120-115, Wales 124-96 and Ireland 129-109, to bring home the silverware.

Mitchinson, of Challinors, said: "It was the first time since 2007 that England have won the four-team tournament."

"The rink that I played in lost to Scotland and beat both Wales and Ireland. The rink that I played in was skipped by Rob Newman."

The 37-year-old has previously won the English singles title at Worthing.

Scotland has been dominant in this competition over the past few years in the series, and Wales played excellently well to win the series last year, but they both failed to beat the English in Dublin.

Mitchinson was called up after impressing at England trials held at Shipston-on-Stour in Warwickshire.

Mitchinson's father-in-law Edwin Smith said: "It's really quite an achievement as I'm sure you may appreciate how difficult it is to get into an England team."

England opened their account with a five-shot victory over Scotland.

There was a 28-12 shot win for Stephen Farish's rink over Darren Burnett's which proved decisive as the English crept over the line by five shots.

Facing Wales in the afternoon, England won by 28 shots, with a 29-7 win for Jamie Chestney's rink and other wins for Richard Catton, Sam Tolchard and Newman.

The English team was in no mood to slip up in the final match against Ireland, claiming a 129-109 win. Once again it was wins for the English skips Tolchard, Newman, Catton and Chestney that saw England to victory.

Street back to third spot

POTTER Street & Church Langley moved back up to third in the Herts & Essex Cricket League division three after a hard-earned victory at Langley.

Having won the toss PSCL opted to bowl and Terry Savanhu and Alf Khawaja restricted the hosts to 40 in the first 17 overs.

Waseem Khan (one) and Mudassar Hussain jnr (two) picked up wickets as the hosts finished on 205.

In response, PSCL opener Chandan Katoch scored 28 but the partnership between No.4 Taran Gill (24 not out) and No.7 Rob Anderson (50 not out), who came together needing 88 off 90 balls, was the key.

They reached the target with 4.5 overs to spare.

Lever delivers great day for club

FORMER England cricketer John Lever joined Harlow MP Rob Halfon to cut the tape when Matching Green Cricket Club opened its plush new £140,000 pavilion.

The former Essex left-arm medium fast bowler was at the special unveiling for the Herts & Essex League club.

Lever, Halfon and Epping Forest district Councillor Mary Sartin cut the tape for the building which had taken 12 years to plan and build.

The event in the picturesque village setting was attended by more than 250 people and was followed by a celebratory dinner in a marquee.

Lever, who played 21 Test matches for England and played for Essex between 1967 and 1989, was extremely impressed.

He was a much respected performer and was a key member of Keith Fletcher's side that won Essex's first ever trophies when they won the County Championship and the Benson and Hedges Cup in 1979.

Lever, 64, now coaches sport at Bancroft's School in Essex.

He said: "It has been a long time coming but it is great that a small club like this have such a good facility.

"The few people who have driven this have done a marvellous job. It is what English cricket is about."

The new building has two bigger changing rooms and shower facilities.

It also has plenty of room to have and prepare food. It replaces a smaller building.

THE OPENING: John Lever, right, cuts the tape with Harlow MP Robert Halfon and Epping Forest councillor Mary Sartin at Matching Green Cricket Club's opening of its new pavilion

The cost of the new pavilion was partially met by £56,000 raised through the club and donations from club members.

Sport England gave funding of £50,000 while Epping Forest District Council and Grange Farm Trust gave £10,000 each to the club which has two teams in the Herts and Essex League.

Club secretary Martin Figg who has been at the club for 16 years said: "It is a real tonic for the club and has boosted morale within the club. We now have excellent facilities.

"Before we had one shower for two teams, now we have four showers. We have facilities for the disabled which we did not have before and better facilities inside the pavilion."

Club chairman David Brown, who spoke at the opening of the new pavilion, has been the key figure behind the building of the new pavilion.

Figg added: "He has run the building of the new pavilion from the first day.

"He has put a lot into its planning and construction."

The Matching first team are enjoying an excellent season.

They have won six out of their nine matches and they top their division.

The club's second team play in division five and they lie seventh in their table.

Matching also runs an U-11 team and up to 70 youngsters train and play at the club that is looking to the future.

Ninth-wicket stand sees win head West

A NINTH-wicket stand defied Harlow Town's first team as they lost their derby with high-flying visitors West Essex in division three of the Shepherd Neame Essex League on Saturday.

Skipper Ashley Alderson won the toss and immediately put WECC in to bat.

A bizarre opening over saw M. Javed hit 4, 4, 6, 4, 1 in only his second game for WECC to start the match off with a run rate of 23 runs per over!

Town looked firmly in control of the game as eight wickets fell for a further 88 runs to leave WECC on 120-8 after 36 overs.

But, Z. Jan and O. Afzal put together the highest partnership of the day with a stand of 53, wrestling the momentum away from the visitors as the Townies failed to bowl enough good balls to mop up the tail.

Danny Calver (5-57), Ramya Upadhyay (3-61) and Dan Farmer (2-12) bowled superbly.

The innings finished on 177 but not without additional incident as Afzal was penalised twice by the panel umpires for running down the wicket, resulting in the Townies starting their innings on 10.

In response, wickets fell regularly. Ramya Upadhyay (58 not out) managed to stem the flow but he ran out of team-mates as the hosts were dismissed for 138 with seven overs still to bat.

Captain Alderson said: "That's two weeks in a row we have got ourselves into winning positions only to throw them away. It's disappointing to say the least and we have to find a way to occupy the crease for longer periods.

"I am confident we have the talent, but at the moment for some reason the application of that talent is missing. It's a very young and relatively inexperienced batting line-up, but we need to learn quickly and get back to doing the basics right.

"Their ninth-wicket stand took the wind out of us a bit, but we should still be more than capable of chasing down 177 and I would happily have taken that total to chase before the game."

Harlow Town 2's slumped to a disappointing defeat in a top-of-the-table clash.

Billericay showed some determined batting with Smith (75) the main contributor to their 212-7.

Graeme Eversden took 5-85.

In reply, Town flew out of the traps with Darryl Pettengell (39), Ben Eversden (23) and Bilal Ali (24) all getting starts.

The seconds then imploded as they threw away the remaining eight wickets for 27 runs to hand Billericay a comprehensive win.

Skipper John Simpson took his Harlow Town 3rd XI to leaders Gidea Park & Romford IV.

M. Qureshi (84) and A. Zahid (88) helped the home side to 247-9.

Tim Poulter was the pick of the bowling, posting figures of 3-31.

Wickets fell and left Town at 75-5.

But the combination of Kevin Tilleard, (97 not out) Nick Teal (22) and Anthony Heath (11) – who hit the winning runs with a six over long on – secured victory.

Simpson said: "This was a hard-fought match to win. I believe we can get a victory over league leaders Wickford next week at Phoenix Park and put us firmly in contention for a promotion spot."

The 4th XI (127-9) dug deep to draw against Billericay (210-4). The final pairing of Jake Messenger (9 not out) and skipper Matt Parsons (8 not out) held firm and earned a draw.

Harlow captain calls on batsmen to up their game

Orsett 167
Harlow 132

Harlow lost by 35 runs
Shepherd Neame Essex League, division one

SKIPPER Luke Heskett said Harlow's batsmen must improve when they host basement side Fives & Heronians in a must win game this Saturday.

Harlow now lie second from bottom after poor batting saw them lose at fellow strugglers Orsett five days ago.

Heskett said: "It is a very important game.

"The batsmen have to improve massively and to take responsibility. If we lose this game we will really be up against it."

Harlow had a good start when they fielded first at Orsett.

Andrew McGarry and Luke Monger reduced the hosts to 20-4 before Haris Afridi replaced Monger and took a further wicket leaving the home side 35-5.

The game's momentum shifted as Lockyer made a vital 62.

He received valuable support from Ben Smith (21).

But despite McGarry striking twice in quick succession, Lockyer received valuable support from the tail and Orsett made 167 all out.

Monger took 3-40 while McGarry claimed 4-63 from 25.2 overs. Ahmed Khawaja could not bowl because of a shoulder injury.

In reply, only opener Nilesh Modhwadia applied himself in the top order making 27, as Harlow slumped to 60-5.

Andre Riddell took the attack to the Orsett bowlers making a swift 29 and he received valuable support from Luke Monger who made 19. But their efforts were ended by good catches and Harlow were bowled out for 132.

Meanwhile, Harlow III swept to a 10-wicket win at Old Southendians in division two of the 3rd XI league.

Southendians batted first and started well before a change in the bowling turned the tables.

Dave Whellams took 6-9 and Joe Riddell claimed 2-19 as Old Southendians were bowled out for 84.

Harlow (85-0) were then guided to victory by openers Alan Burton (36 not out) and Michael Prodder (37 not out) as they consolidated second spot.

Ryman reward for Harlow Town FC

HARLOW Town FC have been praised for their excellent conduct during the 2012-13 campaign as part of the second season of the Ryman League Respect Programme.

In division one north, Wroxham managed to complete their full league programme without one yellow card for dissent, so picked up the main honours.

But the Hawks pushed them all the way, also enjoying an unblemished record - the only clubs out of 66 to achieve this.

Wroxham's technical area marks worked in their favour to pip their challengers.

The FA's Respect programme provides a series of tools for leagues, clubs, coaches, referees, players and parents from grassroots to elite football to help ensure a safe, positive environment in which to play the game.

In Essex, the county FA's lead officer for welfare is Helen Hever, who has congratulated Harlow for their accomplishment.

Harlow also picked up a fairplay prize at the Non-League Paper National Game Awards in May.

London calling Osagie

ANDREW Osagie is gearing up for this weekend's London Grand Prix when he will return to the scene of his greatest moment in athletics.

The Harlow Athletic Club 800metre runner, who claimed third place when the Diamond League came to Britain for the first time this season at Birmingham on Sunday, will race in the Olympic Stadium.

It was just under a year ago that Osagie, of Northbrooks in Harlow, ran his fastest time ever in the Olympic 800m final, won in a world record time by Kenyan David Rudisha.

Osagie goes into the race in the capital in a confident mood after his time of 1 minute, 45.40 seconds secured third in the Diamond League at a packed stadium in Birmingham.

This was just a fraction of a second behind winner Mo Aman.

The Ethiopian clocked 1:45.18.

South African Andre Olivier was a surprise second in 1:45.64.

Osagie, 25, was watched by his brother Lloyd who travelled up from his Harlow home.

Osagie is in a good position in the Diamond League standings.

This third gave him three more Diamond League points and he is joint third in the overall standings.

El's bells athlete's hitting top form

HARLOW Athletic Club starlet Ellie Williams has been in terrific form this season.

At this year's Hertfordshire County Championships, Ellie set herself three targets: a new personal best, to try to qualify for the hurdles finals, and to try to record a time that would get her a national ranking.

She managed all three. Her PB came in the hurdles heat, where she was fourth. This qualified her as the No.21 ranked hurdler in Hertfordshire (equivalent to 16th in Essex), 41st in the East of England, and in the top 350 in the UK. Only the top 400 are ranked.

Ellie qualifies for Hertfordshire as she attends school at Leventhorpe in Sawbridgeworth.

School spokesman Rikke Gregory said: "She has been competing in athletics meets around the county for a few years now. Ellie is also a reliable and talented member of our school athletics squad and has had an excellent season so far."

She has also starred for the Harlow AC women's team and at a recent meeting at Erith in Kent she won all three events that she took part in: 75m hurdles (matching last year's PB), javelin and high jump.

Meanwhile, Ellie's Harlow Athletic Club colleague Naomi Harryman added an Eastern Counties Championship silver and gold medals to her already impressive haul in a phenomenal season.

Her silver medal came in the U-17 80m hurdles in a time of 12.2 seconds; a new personal best that also placed her 37th for hurdlers nationally.

She then went on to claim gold with a leap of 10.88m in the U-17 triple jump, improving her national ranking to 25th in the process.

Speaking on behalf of Harlow Athletic Club, coach Steve Lott said: "Naomi has other sporting talents but made the decision to commit fully to athletics this season. That commitment has certainly been rewarded and there are still several competitions to go."

Southern League final looms for HAC

HARLOW need to finish in the top two to be able to compete in the final of the Southern Athletics Men's League on August 10 at Windsor in Berkshire.

The final league meeting is at Thurrock in a fortnight when Harlow Athletic Club will have to do better than their last league meeting, when they came third at a very wet and windy Erith.

This was their third league match of 2013.

Harlow were just 10 points behind Thurrock in Kent.

The meeting was won by Medway & Maidstone, who finished more than 60 points clear of their nearest rivals.

Harlow fielded a team of 14 at Kent.

Jack Reed returned from injury and there were senior debuts for two new Under-17 athletes: Joe Bailey (B string 400m third 58.5 seconds) and Mohamed Tamedou (A string 100m fifth 12.3s, A string 200m fifth 24.6s).

Team captain Dave Bauer said: "It was a difficult day due to the appalling weather conditions and also delays at the Dartford crossing which meant that a couple of athletes arrived late. We were hoping for a top two finish but could only manage third even though we filled all the events for the first time this year."

Harlow are now third in the league table with 11 league points and 474.5 m a t c h points. Despite the weather some personal bests (PBs) were set on the day, notably Glen Paxman in the A-string triple jump with a leap of 12.48m for first place.

In the A high jump he cleared a new PB of 1.75m for second.

Youngster Will Snook recorded a PB in the A 400m with a time of 51.8s for second spot.

A season best was set by Carl Paxman in the B triple jump with a leap of 11.30m for first place.

First places were achieved by Dave Bauer in the A discus (34.59m) and hammer (34.31m), Glen Paxman in the B long jump (5.70m) and Craig Snook in the B javelin (37.06m).

Chris Clark had to withdraw during the competition due to a recurrence of a foot injury, but still managed fourth place in the B string with a throw of 20.27m.

His place in the B discus was taken by Glen Paxman who threw 21.11m for second place.

Other results:- Glen Paxman: 110m hurdles A 4th 21.5s, pole vault A 3rd 2.60m, shot put B 3rd 9.21m, javelin A 4th 37.15m.

BAUER POWER: Harlow Athletic Club men's captain Dave Bauer shone in Kent

Canaan can make Harlow history at England Champs

CANAAN Solomon will seek to become the first Harlow boy to win a medal in the 1,500m at the All-England Schools Championships since the early 1970s.

Mark Hall School student Canaan (14) will be bidding to follow in the footsteps of Harlow Athletic Club champion Richard Green, who won a medal at the 1970 All-England School Championships, when he competes in the same U-15 1,500 metres category at Birmingham this weekend.

Green, who tragically died after taking his own life, was coached by Nat Fisher, who 43 years on is still a coach at the Mark Hall Sportscentre-based club.

Harlow-based Essex coach John Stow said: "It would be great if Canaan could go there and achieve what Richard did."

Canaan, above, heads into the event in red-hot form. He ran 4 minutes and 03.29 seconds, which is the fastest in the UK for U-15 boys this season and fifth fastest all time in the UK.

This was at an open meeting at Watford last week. "Whether he will run quicker we are not too bothered. We don't want to put any extra pressure on him," said Stow.

Canaan is then set to race in the England trials the following week.

Meanwhile, Harlow Athletic Club member Lewis Harknett produced an outstanding performance at the Essex county finals for the U-13 1,500m race to take the gold medal.

Lewis has now been selected to represent Essex in the 1,500m at the inter-counties U-13 match on Sunday July 28 at Kings Meadow-on-Thames in Surrey.

"This is a fantastic achievement for him and Lewis is extremely proud to have been selected to represent his home county Essex.

"Lewis is looking forward to the challenge of running with other quality runners and knows this will not be an easy race," said his mother Vallerie.

Triple East gold for super Bauer

DAVE Bauer returned with three gold medals from the Eastern Veterans Athletic Club Championships at Sandy in Bedfordshire on Saturday.

Athletes from across East Anglia and the South East competed in this event.

The Harlow Athletic Club veteran won his favoured event, the discus with a season best throw of 37.12metres.

"This was my best series of throws this year which improves my national ranking from 7th to 6th in the UK Men's 45 age group. I'm very slowly getting some form back," said Bauer.

Bauer also claimed the shot put gold with a good throw of 10.61m and then won the hammer with 34.54m.

"A triple gold medalist! My back was struggling a bit but the weather helped, no other Harlow athletes were there, which was an opportunity missed I feel," he said. "I had a good and enjoyable day and, amazingly in sunshine for the first competition this year."

HARLOW Greyhound Stadium selections (Friday, July 5):- 7.30 Madasahare; 7.49 Bathe It Daly; 8.08 Conors Shadow (NAP); 8.27 Mini Delight; 8.46 Global Time; 9.04 Dempsey Is Here; 9.22 Ballinakill Fawn (NB); 9.40 Hugs For Emily; 9.58 Mythical Emily; 10.15 Chaotic Prince.

Hawks dig in for six-a-side deal

HAWKS chief Tom Cunningham is close to tying up a deal for a major six-a-side football league firm to use the new facilities at Barrows Farm.

Cunningham has been in talks with the company and said they are close to securing a contract to use the new plastic pitch.

If this goes ahead it will inject valuable cash into the football club as they seek to transform their playing fortunes.

At the moment the grass pitch has been dug up and sand has been laid.

This is before the 3G pitch is installed prior to the start of the season.

This surface would be used by six-a-side teams when they hire out the facility at Barrows Farm. Cunningham hopes it will be the start of a series of money-spinning deals for the club, linked to the 3G.

A buoyant Cunningham said: "Things are coming together really well. There are a few people with smiles on their faces."

The pitch will be officially opened on Sunday July 28 with a great fanfare with matches involving celebrities, Harlow police and teachers.

Meanwhile, Harlow have just started pre-season training.

Their first friendly match is away to Ryman division one south side Tooting on Saturday July 13.

Manager Danny Chapman has signed up goalkeeper Danny Knowles.

Knowles, who has played as high as the Conference, came to Harlow towards the end of last season.

Chapman said: "He has worked in the summer and is fit. He is a top keeper and gives us experience."

The Hawks boss said defender Donny Barnard has recovered from his calf problems and will boost his squad.

Chapman is trying to land two strikers, whom he refused to name. One of them scored more than 30 goals at Step 4 [Ryman League division one north or equivalent] last season.

However, Chapman is uncertain about whether midfielder Stanley Muguo and forward Piers Wixon will return.

Golfers chip in for club's 50th celebration contest

GOLFERS turned out in force in a special competition to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Harlow's Canons Brook Golf Club.

Sixty-four teams and a total of 128 players competed in the Fuller's sponsored open day for amateur golfers at the Elizabeth Way club.

Numbers were boosted by an appeal in the Star.

Roy Croft and Dennis Mitchell won the members section of the event with 45 stableford points.

Gary Jones and Kevin Elkins, from neighbouring Manor of Groves GC in High Wych, won the visiting team event.

There was a total prize fund of £1,200.

Ron Finch from sponsors, brewers Fuller's, handed out the prizes.

The idea behind the competition was to attract golfers to try out the club and Canons Brook hope many who played the picturesque course will return more often.

Club captain Brian Munro said: "Many thanks to the Star for your assistance in promoting the event. I actually played with a young man who entered having seen the event promoted in the Harlow Star. It was a great day even though it rained steadily for most of the round."

The club's celebrations continue with the pro-am which takes place on July 24.

Harlow beaten in cup quarter-final

THE formbook was not upset as Harlow were beaten at premier division side Buckhurst Hill in the last eight of the Dukes League Cup.

Although Buckhurst are bottom in the division above Harlow, they bossed Sunday's tie from the start.

The visitors batted first but were up against it when they slipped to 15-3.

Rizwan Sadiq was joined by Ahmed Khawaja and the pair gave the innings substance, putting on 97 before the former went for 32.

Khawaja went on to make 51 and tailender Andrew McGarry chipped in with 16 and Lloyd Sykes made nine out before Harlow were bowled out for 151.

Harlow's new ball pair McGarry and Luke Monger bowled well yet again.

McGarry claimed 2-12 from 8 overs.

However, Harlow couldn't dismiss South African Hendro Puchert and Ed Buxton who made 72 not out and 53 not out respectively to guide the hosts into the last four with 27 balls to spare.

Harlow skipper Luke Heskett said: "You are not going to win when you lose three wickets cheaply."

"Two were out to bad shots. The cup run is something we can be very proud of and we gave a premier league side a decent challenge."

He added: "McGarry and Monger both had a great weekend with the ball. Lloyd Sykes also made a promising debut having been promoted from the seconds."
